

The Daily Rigour

Sun 5th August 2018

Issue No. 113

Your free weekly numeracy newspaper!

Dani and Jack win Love Island

A record-breaking 3.6 million people watched Dani Dyer and Jack Fincham win the final of this year's Love Island.

The pair originally "coupled up" on the first episode eight weeks ago and walked away with the £50 000 prize, which they decided to share equally.

All the other contestants earned £200 per week.

Dani and Jack joined the show at the very beginning. So did 2nd placed Laura.

How much more did Dani earn than Laura?

Geraint Thomas wins the Tour De France

Geraint Thomas became the third Briton to win the Tour de France when he crossed the finish line in Paris.

The Team Sky rider, 32, follows Sir Bradley Wiggins in 2012 and four-time Tour champion Chris Froome as Britain celebrates a sixth win in seven years.

He looked very relaxed crossing the finishing line during the final stage and that is because he had built up his lead over the previous 20 stages and Tour convention dictates that the yellow jersey is not challenged on the final stage.

The Tour De France consists of 21 stages and each stage has a mean length of 151 kilometres.

What is the total distance competitors have to travel in order to complete the race?

by Cdmasterworks Ltd

One-third of Americans wish they'd paid more attention in math(s) class

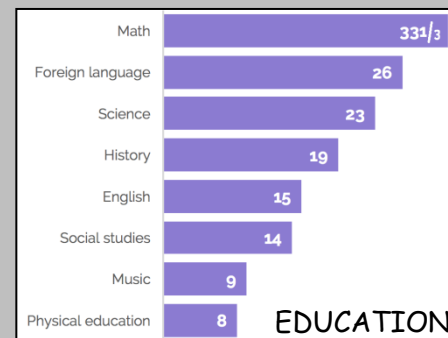

As high school students head back to classes this month, they might want to pay extra attention to their math(s) and English classes as these are the top subjects that adults say have been the most valuable in their lives after high school, according to a recent YouGov survey.

The survey also revealed that one third of Americans wished they'd paid more attention in math class at school - or maths class to us Brits!

The population of the USA is 325.8 million.

How many of them wished they had paid more attention at maths in school?

Carrie Fisher and Mark Hamill among Star Wars Episode IX cast

The cast for the next Star Wars film has been revealed and the good news is that the film will feature Luke Skywalker and Princess Leia!

The bad news is that fans of the space saga will have to wait 501 days from the date of this newspaper for the films release!

What date will Episode IX hit our cinemas?

