Learner drivers allowed on motorways after law change

Learner drivers in England, Wales and Scotland are now allowed to have lessons on the motorway. Previously only those who had passed their test could do so, but lessons are now allowed in a dual-control car with an approved driving instructor.

As many as 8% of licence holders avoided motorways for at least six months after passing their test, an AA poll of 20 000 motorists suggests.

Aunt Bessie's: Frozen food firm to be sold in £210m deal

Frozen food brand Aunt Bessie's will be sold to Birds Eye owner Nomad Foods in a deal worth £210m.

Nomad Foods, which also owns Findus and Goodfella's, has agreed to buy the company from Yorkshire-based group William Jackson.

The deal, which is expected to be completed in the third quarter of 2018, is set to include its factory in Hull.

The factory produces 500 million frozen Yorkshire puddings a year. A pack of 10 costs £1.30.

How much money do the company make each year from selling frozen Yorkshire puddings?
