The price of sugary drinks has risen due to tax

Lovers of soft drinks will have to fork out just a little bit extra for their fizzy beverages as the UK's sugar tax comes into effect.

The tax will depend on how much sugar is included in the product. The tax sees companies having to pay 18p per litre for drinks which contain more than 5g of sugar per 100ml or 24p per litre for those containing over 8g per 100ml.

A 330ml can of Coca Cola contains 10.6g sugar per 100ml. By how much will it's price rise? Round your answer to the nearest penny.

First luxury hotel in space announced

Want to see 16 sunrises in one day?

Float in zero gravity? Be one of the few to have gazed upon our home planet from space? In just four years' time, and for an astronomical $9.5 million, you soon can.

What's being billed as the world's first luxury space hotel, Aurora Station, was announced Thursday at the Space 2.0 Summit in San Jose, California.

Developed by US-based space technology start-up Orion Span, the fully modular space station will host six people at a time, including two crew members, for 12-day trips of space travel. It plans to welcome its first guests in 2022.

Deposits are already being accepted and cost $80 000. They are fully refundable.

If you plan to pay the deposit and the rest in monthly instalments over the next four years, how much will each monthly instalment cost?
