Titanic: Diving tours of wreck site to begin in 2018

In 1912, a trip on board the Titanic was the ultimate in luxury travel. More than a century later, it still is.

Deep-pocketed tourists will once again get the chance to glide along the Titanic's deck when London-based travel company Blue Marble Private begins dives to the wreck site in May 2018.

The 8 day journey sets off from Newfoundland, Canada, and will transport visitors in a titanium-and-carbon-fibre submersible to the mighty vessel's final resting place, more than two miles below the surface of the Atlantic.

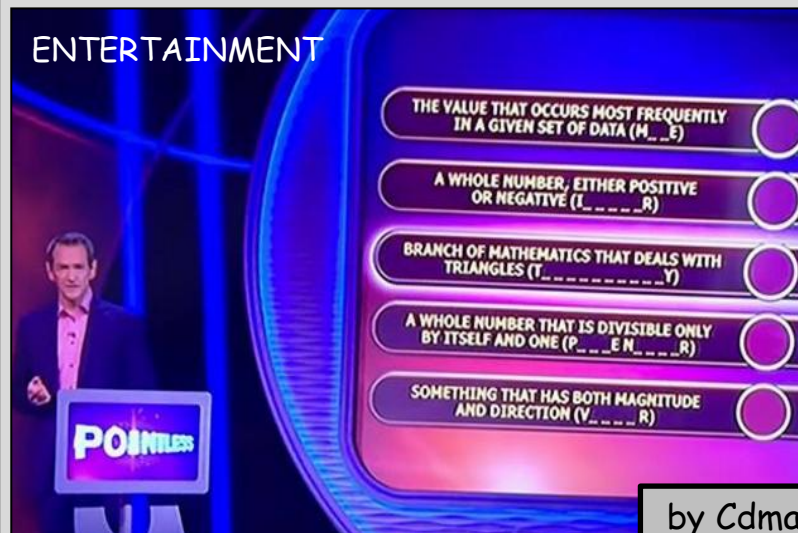

SCIENCE

The first voyage is already fully booked, despite the experience costing $105 129 per person. This is 24 times the cost of a first class ticket on RMS Titanic's maiden voyage in 1912. How much did a first class ticket cost in 1912? Give your answer to the nearest pound.
