The Daily Rigour

Sun 11th September 2016

Issue No. 17

Your free weekly numeracy newspaper!

David Walliams among £1 World Book day authors

David Walliams, Dame Jacqueline Wilson and Dame Julia Donaldson are among the authors lined up to produce £1 titles for World Book Day on the 2nd March 2017.

World Book Day - a Unesco designated charity - will be celebrating its 20th birthday in 2017 and the £1 book initiative follows on from last year, when the charity provided 789 738 books at the knock-down price. During its 19-year history, WBD has provided a total of 13 million £1 books to young people. What percentage of the total books provided were given last year? Answers to 1 dpl

Raspberry Pi passes 10 million sales mark

The Raspberry Pi has sold 10 million units - continuing its success as the most popular British computer ever.

The computer, about the same size as a credit card, was first released in 2012 and is widely used as an educational tool for programming.

A new starter kit for Raspberry Pi, including a keyboard and mouse, has been released to celebrate the success. It costs £99 plus VAT (20%) and will be available in the coming weeks. What is the total price a customer has to pay once the VAT has been added?

US Open 2016: Kei Nishikori stuns Andy Murray in five sets to reach semis

Britain's Andy Murray made his earliest Grand Slam exit of the year as Japan's Kei Nishikori fought back to win their US Open quarter-final in five sets. Murray, led by two sets to one but eventually lost in 3 hours 57 minutes.

1-6 6-4 4-6 6-1 7-5

The match finished at 11.11 pm. What time did the match begin?

Children need three hours exercise a day! Children should spend at least three hours a day performing physical activities, according to the Finnish government.

Finland is known for producing some of the most physically fit children in Europe. It also produces some of the highest academic results among schoolchildren in the developed world.

Teemu, aged 9, insists he can do this just by playing football. How many 90 minute football matches would he need to play each week in order to meet this target set by the Finnish government?

Health & Wellbeing

by Cdmasterworks Ltd