

The Daily Rigour

Sun 20th June 2021

Issue No. 252

Your free weekly numeracy newspaper!

Scots woman becomes nation's only great-great-great-gran

A family from Edinburgh has become one of only a handful across the UK to have six generations alive at the same time. And thanks to the birth last month of the latest generation, Mary Marshall, 86, has become Scotland's only great-great-great-gran.

The family, stretches from oldest member Mary to the youngest, new born Nyla.

Mary is 18 years older than her daughter Rose. Rose is 18 years older than her daughter Chyrel. Chyrel is 15 years older than her daughter Carrie. Carrie is 18 years older than her daughter Toni-Leigh.

- (a) What relation is Mary to Carrie?
- (b) What relation is Toni-Leigh to Chyrel?
- (c) How old is Toni-Leigh?

John Lewis boss says young staff lack basic numeracy skills

Young people starting work at John Lewis stores lack basic literacy and numeracy skills, the boss of the department store chain has said.

Dame Sharon White said some young employees had skills below the level of a 10 year old and that the firm had to provide basic catch-up classes to some staff.

So let's show John Lewis how good your numeracy skills are by answering the questions below about products on their website!

This Jean Paul Gaultier Le Male Eau de Toilette usually costs £72 on the John Lewis website but has been reduced by 15% in their current sale.

- (a) What is the sale price of this Eau de Toilette?

This Ted Baker Alicon Shopper Bag was £35 but can now be bought on the website for £21.

- (b) What is the percentage discount on this bag?

Cristiano Ronaldo snub wipes billions off Coca-Cola's market value

Cristiano Ronaldo's removal of two Coca-Cola bottles

during a press conference at the European Championship has coincided with a $4bn fall in the share price of the drinks company.

The Portugal captain is a renowned health fanatic and made it clear what he thinks of the carbonated soft drink. The 36 year old shifted the bottles of Coca-Cola away. He then followed it by holding up a bottle of water before declaring in Portuguese: "Água!", appearing to encourage people to choose that instead.

At a later press conference, Ukraine's Andriy Yarmolenko was in a mischievous mood as he gave the sponsor's bottles a bit of a shuffle.

From left to right there was a bottle of coke zero, a bottle of coca cola and a bottle of Heineken.

If the coke zero was swapped with the Heineken, the Heineken swapped with the coca cola, the coke zero swapped with the coca cola and the coke zero swapped with the Heineken, what would the order of the bottles now be from left to right?

Harrison Ford's gruelling exercise regime filming Indiana Jones 5

Hollywood star Harrison Ford has been cycling 40 miles a day while in the North East of England filming.

How many days of filming would it take him to cycle the 2102 mile length of the Tour de France?

