GTA V, the second highest selling video game of all time, turns 10

Ten years ago last week, Grand Theft Auto V debuted on shop shelves.

The fastest entertainment product in history to make $1bn and the most profitable ever made, GTA V has since sold an astonishing 185 million copies and earned its publisher a reported $8bn in revenue.

But how good is your knowledge on best selling video games?

Shown below is a list of the top 5 best selling video games of all time.

We have given you a clue for a missing letter or letters in each game.

The answer to the calculations corresponds to the number of the letter in the alphabet, e.g. a = 1, b = 2, etc. How many video games can you name???

Top 10 Best Selling Video Games of all time

Un-bear-lievable teddy collection enters the Guinness Book of World Records!

A man, in his late 20's has the largest collection of Care Bears in the world.

His 1234 cuddly companions are reported to be worth over £100 000.

Cuddling a teddy bear can be good for your Health and Wellbeing - and that is a fact!

Speaking of factors! A factor is a number that divides into another number with no remainder.

The number 1234 has exactly four factors.

Can you list the four factors of 1234?

iPhone 15 goes on sale at surprisingly "affordable" price

The iPhone 15 went on general sale last Friday with the following key features;

- USB-C charging instead of Lightning
- Dynamic Island on all models
- New AV1 decoder on the iPhone 15 Pro models
- 48MP camera comes to standard iPhone 15
- Bigger camera bump on the 15 Pro Max
- Starting price: £799 / $799 / AU$1499

It costs £799 for an 'entry Level' iPhone 15 in the UK and AU$1499 for the exact same model in Australia.

Current Exchange Rate:

£1 = $1.91 Australian Dollars

Is it better value to buy an entry level iPhone 15 in the UK or Australia? You MUST give a reason for your answer!
